

UNION HEADS CALL OFF RAIL STRIKE

ACTION IS TAKEN AT JOINT MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

Resolution Was Adopted Withdrawing Authorization for Strike—One of the Reasons Given Was Public Opinion Was Against Men—Lay This to Railroad Propaganda

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The rail strike scheduled for October 30 was averted tonight when leaders of the Switchmen, Trainmen, Conductors, Engineers and Firemen at a joint meeting adopted resolutions withdrawing authorization of a walkout and officials of the railroad telegraphers' organization announced they would take similar action. These were the only unions which had authorized a strike.

The vote calling off the strike was unanimous by organizations. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen announced. The official wording of the resolution adopted was that the "strike be declared not effective."

Unofficial reports were that the firemen's executives had strenuously opposed adoption of the resolution. None of the presidents would confirm this, however.

BLANTON IS SAVED FROM EXPULSION BY SMALL MARGIN

Collapses as He Walks
Out of the Chamber

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Saved from being thrown out of the house of representatives by a bare margin of eight votes, Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat, of Texas, was publicly reprimanded late today by Speaker Gillett in accordance with a resolution of censure, against which no man cast a single vote.

Then, a moment later, as he walked out of the chamber with all eyes upon him, he toppled over in a heap. Some of his colleagues who had voted to expel him picked him up and placed him on a lounge. But he did not stay there long. Rousing himself, he stumbled over, the tears streaming down his cheeks, and as he went away he was heard to express the hope that he might never see the house again.

There was no doubt of the fact, as members expressed it, that the Texan was utterly crushed and worn by his experience of the day and night of the day when he was during the life of a man in congress. For an hour and ten minutes with hostile eyes upon him, he fought to defend himself from the charge that he had transgressed the law by putting into the Congressional Record a document described as "unspeakably vile."

Before he got up to speak in his own behalf, it was the view of the Republicans and Democrats alike that action upon the resolution to expel him would depend upon his own attitude. He sat with folded hands as Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader, pleaded earnestly to have him expelled and then, pale and smiling, he stepped briskly to the front as the leader sat down.

His voice hoarse and broken he touched rapidly upon the charges and then his old time fighting fire returned. Right at the beginning he said he knew the house was prepared to expel him.

When a rap of the gavel sounded the end of the hour allotted him under the rules, he stopped suddenly in the midst of a sentence and turning sharply upon his heel was half way out when a request was made from the Democratic side that he have thirty additional minutes and was opposed by Mondell. But the leader was quick to withdraw his objection and the Texan was summoned back.

Yields to Questions.
Refusing at first to yield for questions, he permitted Representative Lonerworth, Republican, Ohio, to ask him something, and Republicans asserted tonight that the reply had turned the tide against him. The Ohio member wanted to know if the report was true that Mr. Blanton had declared an intention to mail 250,000 letters to the members of congress.

WIPING OUT OF SECTIONAL LINES HOPE OF HARDING

President Expresses
This Hope in Georgia Addresses

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 27.—President Harding concluded his visit to the South today with a series of speeches in Georgia re-emphasizing his administration to the task of finally obliterating sectional divisions.

In two addresses in Atlanta and one at Columbus the president told crowds of cheering Georgians that it was one of his fondest hopes to see his presidency bring North and South into complete harmony and cooperation.

At the statue here of Henry W. Grady, Atlanta's apostle of national reconciliation, Mr. Harding broadened his gospel of "understanding and good will" to include all the world and gave notice that if the armament conference fails to bring the nations into complete concord "it will be no fault of the United States of America."

Many thousands heard and cheered the chief executive at the monument and a smaller gathering of business men applauded him when he expressed a similar plea for understanding at a luncheon at the Country Club.

Applause greeted him the length of a street parade, along the route of which thousands crowded the sidewalks and cross streets despite a drizzling rain which fell part of the afternoon.

Crowd Is Noisy.
So great was the crowd which jammed about the Grady monument in the downtown section that many could not hear and those on the outskirts made such a disturbance that the president twice interrupted his speech to try to quiet them. The noise continued however, so that Mr. Harding had to raise his voice to make it carry even to those nearby. At last a force of police reserves joined the soldiers and cadets assigned to preserve order.

Following his address, the president was escorted to the Georgia Terrace Hotel where he was tendered a short reception before his special train departed for Washington. The president's visits to Atlanta and Columbus followed an early morning stop at the infantry school at Camp Benning where the chief executive saw a realistic demonstration of an infantry attack in which all the forms of fire or warfare were brought into play.

In a speech later at the luncheon here Secretary Weeks of the war department, a member of the presidential party praised the spectacle and declared that Camp Benning was one of the things that should not be scrapped in the after-war cleanup. The president expects to arrive back in Washington tomorrow noon.

TAMPA RECOVERING FROM STORM
(By The Associated Press)
TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 27.—The work of repairing damage done here by Tuesday's hurricane was in full swing today. Trolley service was restored on numerous lines within the city and lighting facilities to several districts since Tuesday night. Officials expected to have complete service on trolley lighting service by Saturday.

Crews were clearing highways through the vicinity today and regular automobile service between Clear Water and St. Petersburg which had been suspended since Tuesday afternoon was restored. Commercial telegraph companies reconstructing their lines rapidly, had reopened service between Jacksonville and Fort Meyers. Service to Fort Meyers is now sent over land lines to Key West, cable from Key West to Punta Rassa and emergency lines from Punta Rassa to Fort Meyers.

MRS. PARKER IS COMING TO CHICAGO
Chicago, Oct. 27.—The bankruptcy hearing of the Co-operative Society of America today was continued until tomorrow pending arrival of Mrs. Edith Stubbs Parker, wife of Harrison Parker, president of the society who according to Parker's attorney will arrive in Chicago Friday morning for the hearing. Mr. Parker left Chicago for Canada two nights ago to bring his wife back.

then a mere statement that the "board sees nothing further to do," members said.

U. S. SENATE IS STILL FUSSING OVER TAX BILL

Rejects Tax on Undistributed
Corporation Profits

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The senate voted twice today against proposals to tax the undistributed income of corporations. The first vote was 45 to 24 and the second 45 to 29.

The first proposition to tax undistributed profits of corporations was offered by Senator Jones, Democrat, of New Mexico, the amendment provided that instead of a 15 per cent tax there should be levied on the undistributed profits a graduated tax beginning at eight per cent on the first ten per cent of income, and ending at 56 per cent on the amount of income over sixty per cent.

This amendment was rejected 45 to 24, four Republicans—Kenyon, La Follette, Norbeck and Norris—voting for it, and three Democrats—Gerry, Hitchcock and Pomerene—voting against it. Proponents argued that corporations should not be allowed to escape taxes on profits held in their treasuries while opponents said the effect of the plan would be to have corporations distributing all their profits to escape all taxation.

Senator Simmons, Democrat, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee proposed then that in addition there be a flat tax of 15 per cent there should be imposed a graduated tax on undistributed profits, which, he said, would average about nine per cent and yield about sixty million dollars.

This amendment was rejected, 45 to 29, four Republicans—Kenyon, La Follette, Nelson and Norbeck—supporting it, and one Democrat, McKellar, opposing it.

In urging his amendment for refunding loans made to foreign countries, Mr. McKellar said there was no reason why the American people should be taxed to pay the interest on these loans. If the foreign governments paid the interest, he said, it would be possible to reduce the nation's more than three billion dollar tax bill by one seventh.

CONFERENCE TO OPEN NOVEMBER 12

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Definite decision fixing the time for the opening of the conference on limitation of armament and Pacific affairs on Saturday morning, November 12, rather than on armistice day, as originally suggested is expected tomorrow. State department officials said today announcement of the opening session of the conference would be made up on President Harding's return from a visit into the south.

The regular session of the cabinet will be held tomorrow and it is expected Secretary Hughes will present the question for the president for decision at that time.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Elhu Root, one of the delegates to the armament conference, declared in an address here yesterday that the world was full of hatred because of the incapacity of people to become truly civilized. The way of escape, he added, lay not along the pathway of legal restraint, but through the development of character and the exercise of mercy, compassion and sacrifice.

BEGINNING OF UNFRIENDLINESS TOWARD CHARLES

Press is Advising Public to Preserve Calmness

(By The Associated Press)

BUDAPEST, Oct. 27.—Anti-Monarchist mobs in Budapest are beginning to take a menacing attitude toward former Emperor Charles and his legitimist followers whose efforts to restore him to Magyar throne have resulted in dismal failure.

So intense has become the feeling against him that newspapers here today published editorials imploring the public to preserve a spirit of calmness. Serious apprehension is felt over the difficulty of trying the Carlist plotters who have been arrested and imprisoned here. Turbulent elements are understood to be planning a wholesale massacre of the prisoners.

Since many leading figures of the national assembly are either under arrest or strict surveillance, the government has abandoned the idea of convoking the assembly, and a constitutional deadlock with the possibility of a military administration, is feared.

Premier Bethlen today assured The Associated Press correspondent that he was against any policy of revenge, and was in favor of amnesty. Extremists of the former party, however, are demanding relentless prosecution of the Carlists.

It was understood today that the British gunboat on which Charles and ex-Empress Zita are to be placed, will be stationed in the Danube river at Galatz, there to await the decision of the council of ambassadors regarding their final disposition.

PLAN TO MODERNIZE PACIFIC NAVAL BASES

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Replying to a question in the house of commons today, the prime minister announced that the imperial conference had generally agreed with the policy adopted previously by the admiralty that for the better security of Great Britain's outlying possessions, certain naval bases, including those in the Pacific, needed modernizing and in special cases extended.

It was not intended, however, to ask parliament to vote any additional money this year because of the adoption of this policy.

A Melbourne dispatch of recent date reported Premier Hughes as declaring in a speech in the house of representatives that the question of a British naval base in the Pacific was discussed at the recent imperial conference and that a decision regarding it was reached.

SINN FEIN LOOKS WITH SUSPICION ON DISCUSSION

Fear Debate in Commons Will Injure
Their Cause

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The announcement of Prime Minister Lloyd George today that next Monday had been allocated by the government for a discussion in the house of commons on the pending motion of unionist members, ensuring the government for conducting the present Irish negotiations was taken as bringing the Irish issue to another critical stage.

The announcement came as a surprise to the Sinn Fein delegates now in London, who indicated tonight they had expected that parliament would not be consulted until there was a nearer approach to an agreement than hitherto had been possible. Their view tonight was nothing was likely to happen in the house of commons that could better the terms obtainable by the Sinn Fein, but that on the contrary, the debate might easily lessen these terms.

The Sinn Fein delegates appear to be extremely suspicious that the premier has been faced with trouble in his own party and that he thinks a debate in the house would be the best way in obtaining for himself a certain majority. Clusier is understood to present his chief difficulty, since he has pledged himself not to reduce the importance of the position of the northern parliament. He has been pressed from the start by the Sinn Fein delegates to reopen the Ulster question.

On the other hand, Mr. Lloyd George is urged to permit the northern parliament to function.

If Mr. Lloyd George assents to facilitating the powers of the northern parliament he risks a break in the negotiations with Sinn Fein. Yet there is a powerful feeling in his own party in favor of leaving Ulster what she has.

PLAN RECEPTION FOR MARSHAL FOCH

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Twelve American destroyers left tonight to escort Marshal Foch into this port tomorrow.

The fleet war craft will meet the liner Paris, bearing the allied generalissimo, 100 miles off the coast, and joined by a squadron of seaplanes will accompany the ship to quarantine where a navy officer with a party of notables will be waiting to greet the French warrior.

Whether General Pershing also will be waiting to welcome his old comrade will depend largely on the stokers aboard the liner George Washington, bringing the American military leader back to the home land.

A message received early today from the Paris indicated that she was dropping knots to let the George Washington into port first.

LEE WILL THANK GOD FOR RESULT

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—"I shall get down on my knees and thank God that the catastrophe has been averted," W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said tonight in a statement discussing the strike settlement.

"I have on my desk thousands of letters from wives and children of railroad employees asking me to do everything possible to prevent a strike."

"When I think of the suffering a strike would have caused these people, when I think of the disaster it might have brought to this country, I say again that I thank God we took the action we did tonight."

TEN MORE SALOONS CLOSED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Ten more saloons in Chicago were ordered permanently closed today by Federal Judge K. M. Landis following testimony by agents of the attorney general's office that they had succeeded in purchasing whiskey after preliminary injunctions against the places had been issued.

IDENTIFY BODY FOUND IN LAAGOON

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The body of a woman found in a lagoon in Lincoln park yesterday, has been partly identified as that of Mrs. A. C. Park, of Milwaukee, police said today. The body apparently had been in the water several weeks. A phone was found fastened to the woman's skirt.

ADMIRAL DISCOUNTS POSSIBILITY OF ANY SERIOUS DIFFERENCE

Beatty, First Sea Lord of British Admiralty, Says Every Interest Binds England and America Together—Believes in Closest Intercourse Between the Two Nations

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The possibility of any serious differences arising between Great Britain and the United States over the Washington conference on limitation of armaments was discounted tonight by Admiral Beatty, first sea lord of the British admiralty, speaking at a dinner given in his honor by the Pilgrim Society.

"The world will wait and watch with supreme interest the conference's deliberations," Admiral Beatty said, "but nowhere will it be watched with more hope than in England. Surely," he added, "there never was a greater issue dependent upon the deliberations of man."

Reverting to the relationship between England and the United States and the part it will play in the conference, Admiral Beatty said the question was not one of bolstering up an "artificial and man-made alliance," but rather a question of keeping alive and awake the communion which is right and natural between the two nations.

"Our every interest, our every instinct binds us together, he said.

"Just as members of the same clan, when widely separated, lose touch with one another and with one another's point of view unless efforts are made to maintain touch between them, so I believe honestly in the necessity for the closest intercourse between the United States and Great Britain in every phase of activity."

"It is not to be expected, indeed, it is humanly impossible that both countries should be in perfect agreement at all times. When differences do arise in international affairs they are called 'incidents' and much can be made of them by those who delight in making mischief and scandal—but if we know one another well enough and trust one another completely enough the mischief-maker can strive in vain."

SPECIAL COMMITTEE MAY VISIT HAITI

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Tentative plans were made today by the special senate committee investigating the American occupation of Haiti and the dominican republic to visit the island, leaving Washington, November 15. The committee is composed of Senators McCormick, Illinois, chairman and Oddie, Nevada, Republicans and Pomerene, Ohio, and King, Utah, Democrats.

Appearing before the committee Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler, who organized the gendarmes in Haiti said there were only three minor disturbances during the time he was there from August, 1915, to March 1918.

One, he said, was an attempt to rob a marine officer of $1,200 in his possession to pay the police forces, another an attempt to assassinate a marine officer and the third a report that five shots had been fired. No evidence of the latter could be obtained. In defending himself against robbery the marine officer killed several of the natives and in the instance of attempted assassination several were killed.

POLICE UNEARTH UNDERGROUND THIEVES
DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 27.—Police raided an underground rendezvous of a gang of alleged automobile thieves here this afternoon and later arrested three men who they believe participated in the shooting of a sheriff's posse at Murray, Ia., last week, which resulted in the death of one man and the wounding of two others.

The men gave their names as Jack Lewis, Toronto, Ont.; Harold Handley, Des Moines, and Carl Bengtson, Clinton, Ia. All are being held without bond.

Asher weighed 120 pounds and McArthur 114.

Yesterday was the anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's birthday. There were some business houses and homes in Jacksonville decorated in honor of the anniversary. The spirit of Roosevelt goes marching on, and it is very probable that it will not be many years hence until the anniversary of his birth is made a national holiday.

Perhaps when all the smoke has been cleared away the authority of the railway board will have been definitely determined. That in itself will be a worth while thing.

THE STRIKE POSTPONEMENT.

The holds of the railroad brotherhood have not made public the text of the resolution postponing the strike, but they have let it be known that the postponement order will be issued today. Thus a crisis in the railroad and business world is again averted. Just what the temper of the leaders is may be revealed in the resolution mentioned, but certainly they have strengthened themselves and their organization in the public mind by yielding to the pressure of public opinion and withdrawing the strike order.

Public opinion has been decidedly against the course outlined by the railroad workers. This does not mean that all people believe that the workers are in every way wrong and the railroad managers every way right, but it does mean that the people did not feel that conditions in any way made advisable the strike plan. With the postponement or rescinding order effective, it is not too much to hope that some means of reasonably satisfactory settlement may be found and the rights of the men, the railroads and the public thus conserved.

ALWAYS SOMETHING WRONG WITH WORLD.

Lots of people today are grumbling about the trend of times and are forever harking back to "the good old days of our ancestors." To be sure there is much in this modern age that might profitably be altered and yet the old life was not a bed of roses either. So take your choice between:

Present—Trolley cars, Electric lights, Gas range, Telephone, Modern plumbing, Movies, Railroads, Interurbans.

Past—Ox teams, Tallow candles, Lugging coal scuttle, Mailman, Tin basin, Daguerreotypes, Stage coach, Wagon and team.

We could go on and give hundreds of comparisons but these will be enough to start one thinking that we are not so bad off after all.

WORLD ONLY LARGER ROBINSON CRUSOE ISLAND.

Considering the wisdom of Robinson Crusoe, says World's Work, His biography is a good text-book for these times. It pictures the world of industry in its simplest terms. One man alone on an island, with nothing but the raw materials of Nature about him, clothes himself, feeds himself, puts a roof over his head, accumulates property, lives happily, builds a merchant marine out of a hollowed log, and finally establishes communication with the rest of the world, to its profit and to his own.

How did he do it? By hard work; by foresight; by self-denial. Crusoe had to work or starve. He had to look ahead, else his work would be labor to no purpose. And he had to deny himself some enjoyment of the gains of the day or he would starve on the morrow.

THE CHANGING YEARS.

It was Mr. Lippincott who recently referred to the action of the commissioner of patents back in 1833. Numerous applications had been filed, the commissioner took the necessary action and then announced that he would soon retire from office with the work of his department completed. He thought that everything patentable had been thought of and there would be no further need for maintaining his office.

Subsequent years have afforded the proof of that narrow viewpoint. The thought in this bit of history is that perchance there are just as great possibilities of development in the next 70 or 80 years as there were in the period since 1833.

ILLINOIS FACES TOUGH GAME TODAY

Harmon's Warriors Play Wesleyan at Bloomington—Are Not Overconfident but Hope to Bring Home the Bacon.

Coach Harmon's Illinois college football warriors face one of the toughest games of the season in the battle with Wesleyan on Wilder field at Bloomington this afternoon.

Despite the bear stories of injuries set out by Wesleyan, Coach Harmon and every man on the Illinois squad expect to see the full strength of Wesleyan lined up for the kickoff today.

After the exhibition at Bradley last Saturday the Illinois men buckled down and during the past week have put in some hard practice. The men are not discouraged at the Bradley result as they feel that every team has its slump and they had theirs in the Bradley game. They believe that the slump is over and there is the old spirit of fight in the team now and it is not spoiled by any overconfidence.

All the men except Cully are in fair shape, though several of the men have little cuts, sores and bruises. Not enough to be serious but enough to let the players know they are there and be bothersome if hit.

Coach Harmon will take practically two full teams to Bloomington this morning. He will have two complete backfields, and plenty of line substitutes. The men making the trip are:

Half-backs—Jones, Ferreira, Lebow, and Foreman.

Quarter-backs—Cully and Thompson.

Full-backs—Rogers and J. Roberts.

Ends—Mellon Wright, and Witaschek.

Tackles—Reid, Reiss, and Ribelin.

Guards—Gunn, Burrus, and Weller.

Center—Fiedling and W. Roberts.

WHEN YOU THINK OF TAXES READ THIS

Everything Is Taxed in France—Bets on Races Must Pay Their Share.

By Associated Press.
Paris—The French people are paying many unusual taxes as a result of the heavy burdens imposed by the war. The Ministry of Finance states that there are 183 persons in the country who have incomes of 1,000,000 francs or more.

Taxes are collected on all and any paper used in the transaction of current business in France. The little revenue stamp is ever present on checks, invoices, promissory notes, bills, receipts, bills of lading, receipts.

If one desires to travel to Nice or to any other points in France besides paying 150 per cent more for his fare than he would before the war, he will have to pay 10 per cent for a government tax and a neat little stamp on his berth ticket in the sleeping car will cost him another ten per cent.

If he desires to send letters from Nice to his friends in Paris or in foreign countries, he will find that the cost of the former will be 25 centimes instead of 10 and, for the latter 50 centimes as compared with 15 before the war. Should a postcard suffice his epistolary needs, he will pay 20 centimes instead of one sou.

The waiter brings him his bill for the amount of his dinner and he notes a charge of ten per cent is added to the total of the bill as a government tax. It is the last line. Tickets to the theater are taxed ten per cent.

At the race track, if he bets 100 francs he will find that he has only wagered 90. The government retains ten per cent as against five before the war.

The midwife who signs the receipt for the 75 or 80 francs of her weekly wages, has to obliterate a little government stamp of 25 centimes with her signature.

The most profitable tax in France is that on tobacco, which has been increased about three-fold since 1914 and which brought into the French treasury for the year 1920 $16,000,000 francs, as against the income tax of $12,000,000 francs.

HAS FOUND ABOUT UNDELIVERED LETTER

WASHINGTON—(By A. P.)—An explanation of why in many cases "the letter that never came" is believed by Postmaster General Hays to have been found in the revelation that an average of 70 pieces of mail is found daily in empty sacks and pouches sent to the mail bag repair shop in Washington.

About 8,000 sacks are received daily at the repair shop and of these something like one out of every 100 according to figures furnished Mr. Hays is found to contain a piece of mail, ranging from registered or special delivery letters to fourth class parcels.

Considering there are 7,500,000 sacks and nearly 1,000,000 pouches used in the postal service about 2,500,000 of which on an average are stored for periods ranging from months to years, Mr. Hays believes a search will possibly bring to light much mail matter unaccounted for.

The postmaster general has sent out an order to all points where the sacks and pouches are stored for an immediate inspection and "shaking down" of each in order to ascertain if any contain mail. Such mail if found will be specially marked and forwarded so that the addressee may know the cause of the delay. The order also provides that postmasters are to be held strictly responsible and must see that every sack in the future must be thoroughly inspected before it is cast aside.

RED CROSS HELPS IN MANY CASES

Disasters Ranged From Grasshopper Plague in Dakotas to Famine in China.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(By A. P.)—Forty-three disasters ranging from the grasshopper plague in North Dakota to the Chinese famine called for emergency relief measures by the American Red Cross during the fiscal year ending last June 30, according to the portion of the society's annual report dealing with peace-time service, made public today.

The disasters resulted in the death in the United States of 850 persons and the injury of 2,500, caused property damage estimated at $30,000,000, affected 67 communities and rendered 65,000 families homeless. Attendant relief activities resulted in an expenditure by the Red Cross of $1,871,000.

The summary of the year's disasters as given in the report showed that Red Cross relief was furnished in the case of seventeen fires; five floods; seven tornadoes or cyclones; one devastating storm; three explosions, including the one in Wall Street; one building accident; two typhoid epidemics, the more serious being at Salem, Ohio, which affected nine per cent of the population; a smallpox epidemic in Haiti; a train wreck; the Tulsa, Okla., race riot; the famine in China, affecting millions of persons; the famine among the Indians of Alaska; the grasshopper plague in North Dakota and an earthquake in Italy.

Most Serious Disaster

The most serious disaster in the United States was the Pueblo flood last June, in which the Red Cross assisted in rehabilitation.

In marked contrast with the previous year, only one tornado assumed the proportions of a major disaster, the report said. This occurred last April in the border counties of Texas and Arkansas with the city of Texarkana as the center. The famine in China calling for expenditure by the Red Cross of more than $1,000,000, was the most serious of foreign disasters in which the organization gave aid.

The report declared an increasing effectiveness on the part of the Red Cross to deal with emergencies was manifest during the year. Through its chain of chapters, linking virtually every country in the world with national headquarters at Washington, the Red Cross, it was said, has established a network of communication through which instantaneous relief may be dispatched to any part of the United States.

Through its nursing science, its home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition, first aid and life-saving classes and health centers, and in numerous other ways designed to acquaint masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health service, the reserve of the army, navy and public health service, at the end of the year had enrolled 27,787 nurses, an increase of 1,084 over last year. More than 72,000 certificates were issued to women and girls who completed the Red Cross course in home hygiene and care of the sick and thru its 260 health centers, the Red Cross reached 90,252 persons with health information.

MR. CLAYBAUGH HEARD BY KIWANIS CLUB

Principle of Brown's Business College Made Interesting Address—Some Purposes of Business Training Explained.

At the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Peacock Inn Thursday noon an interesting address was made by Prof. G. C. Claybaugh, principal of Brown's Business college. C. E. Williamson and Principal B. F. Shafer of the high school made some explanation with reference to some work which the educational committee is fostering in conjunction with the Rotary club and school officials. The purpose is to help students continue in their school work.

John M. Butler, a new member of the club, was present and guests were George W. Scott of Connorsville, Ind.; F. J. Andrews, Jr., and Sperry of Jacksonville. President Farrell expressed the pleasure of the club in having Mr. Claybaugh present. In his address with reference to the business college Mr. Claybaugh said:

"Three men, to whom the Mississippi Valley is indebted, were born in the southwestern corner of Fulton county within a very few miles of one another. These men were George W. Brown, your former citizen, who established Brown's Business college in 1866; Mr. D. L. Musselmann, who went to Quincy and established the Gem City Business college in 1870, the third, least known to you, perhaps, was O. M. Powers, who established the Metropolitan Business college in Chicago in 1873. I mention this fact simply for its historic value.

"The business college, as an institution, has justified its existence. Organized to furnish a training for practical work along business lines, it has been an increasing means of facilitating the keeping of accurate business records and the carrying on of business operations. Many, many young people have been helped to a start which they never could have secured alone. They have been enabled to win quick and substantial advancement and have won success in richer measure than would otherwise have been possible. Businesses of all kinds have profited by securing the better classes of service which these young persons have been able to render. Society has been benefitted by the great efficiency of these workers. The old time business man learned what he knew about business by "doing" and for many years boys were taken into business houses and began their training at the bottom, working their way upward through years of apprenticeship. Such training, while it was the best to be had at that time, was not of the best. The business men who employed these apprentices were busy and did not have the 'knack of teaching.' Therefore, the training thus secured was in adequate as compared with the training students now receive in special schools.

Specialized Study.

"A business school is a means to an end. Business requires trained workers. It cannot afford to employ the old, slow, apprenticeship method to train its help. They must have their help come to them already trained. Indeed, special training in all lines, is the order of the day. Study must precede practice.

"Originally, there was little to the so called course of study in a business college, excepting training in writing. In a few years, a simple bookkeeping was added, with one or two correlated subjects. Then came shorthand and later typewriting, with correlated subjects. During the last few years, courses of study have been broadened by the inclusion of such subjects as Commercial Law, Salesmanship, Business Organization and Administration, Advertising, etc. Quite recently there has been a wonderful growth in the accountancy. Special Accountancy schools have sprung up all over the country, state universities are furnishing courses in accounting and many thousands of students are taking mail lessons, furnished by the numerous extension courses. I mention these because they are a part of the means employed to furnish the business men in the country with a really high type of service. Many young people who attend business colleges, have had imperfect fundamental training. They are not sufficiently educated to take a strong course. They are also unwilling, or unable, to devote sufficient time to the work to have a training that is most worth while. This is unfortunate for many reasons. The principal one being the lack of that degree of ability which alone will make for the efficiency of business practice.

Valuable Training.

"Aside from a knowledge of the subjects comprising our courses, there are valuable things to which attention should be given. I will speak of a few. The appreciation of what constitutes a good day's work is many times lacking. School days are usually short. We have a long day. We begin early and quit late. Our day is about the same as an ordinary business day. During this day, students are busy. A term of 9 or 12 months tends to develop a habit of work and a feeling in its favor. This is one of the big lessons learned. We urge it. Our courses are so heavy that students cannot keep up unless they work hard and devote long hours daily. Furthermore, we keep before them the fact that you are looking for those who are willing to work, who are not afraid to work.

"Training of any kind, to be valuable, must lead to accuracy and exactness. In order that these may be secured, the instruction should be thorough. Teachers sometimes grade less than ten per cent but business grades ten per cent or zero. A thing is either right or it is wrong. If results are inaccurate, they are unreliable and even disastrous. We make accuracy the first essential. This is followed by speed and neatness. Speed emphasizes accuracy, speed and neatness, believing them to be the leading essentials.

"Our work resolves itself into a vision of the needs of the business world and to preparing young people to meet those requirements. It is a big task, an important task, and many faithful, earnest, teachers are devoting themselves unreservedly in the business colleges to the welfare of the pupils to their raising.

"The business college is a clearing house for those who wish help and those who wish work. The business college introduces the applicant to those who wish the services. It is our promise to our students to help them get a position when they are ready for them. It is our pleasure to furnish business men with the help they need."

HAS FOUND ABOUT UNDELIVERED LETTER

WASHINGTON—(By A. P.)—An explanation of why in many cases "the letter that never came" is believed by Postmaster General Hays to have been found in the revelation that an average of 70 pieces of mail is found daily in empty sacks and pouches sent to the mail bag repair shop in Washington.

About 8,000 sacks are received daily at the repair shop and of these something like one out of every 100 according to figures furnished Mr. Hays is found to contain a piece of mail, ranging from registered or special delivery letters to fourth class parcels.

Considering there are 7,500,000 sacks and nearly 1,000,000 pouches used in the postal service about 2,500,000 of which on an average are stored for periods ranging from months to years, Mr. Hays believes a search will possibly bring to light much mail matter unaccounted for.

The postmaster general has sent out an order to all points where the sacks and pouches are stored for an immediate inspection and "shaking down" of each in order to ascertain if any contain mail. Such mail if found will be specially marked and forwarded so that the addressee may know the cause of the delay. The order also provides that postmasters are to be held strictly responsible and must see that every sack in the future must be thoroughly inspected before it is cast aside.

LOOK FOR BETTER CITIZENS SOON

Good Roads, Better Schools and Other Things Expected to Bring Changed Conditions in West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(By the A. P.) Good roads, better schools and a higher culture for the entire community has become the slogan of the extreme southwestern part of West Virginia—the coal counties of Logan, McDowell, Boone, Wyoming and Mingo. Here it was in bygone years that moonshiners flourished in the fastnesses of the mountains, feudists fought their battles without serious interference from the law, and the wayfarer knew no better way than the rough timber trail.

But times are changing and education is asserting its uplifting influence.

Captain George M. Ford, born a mountaineer and educated in one of the foremost universities of the country, has recently become state superintendent of free schools, and in that capacity has been giving much of his time to the needs of the southwest.

"Schools in the mountain counties," Captain Ford, "may not have made the progress shown in some of the other states, because of our many natural barriers, but they rank high and the teaching staff is good. Most of the teachers have had normal school training, while 30 per cent of the white teachers and 70 per cent of the negro teachers this year attended some summer school. The pay of the teachers is still low, but the need of education has made it apparent to all our people that more money must be set aside for that purpose. The state now gives aid to certain counties which lack sufficient funds for the maintenance of their schools at the required level."

"Wyoming county is one of the most remote sections of the state. It is largely agricultural and is poorly served by railroads. School officials have had much difficulty in locating schools and providing the necessary teaching staff because the compulsory education law does not require pupils to walk more than two miles to school and the funds available have made it impossible to sprinkle the territory with enough school buildings."

Education Affected by Roads.

"The poor roads in Wyoming county also have had their influence on education. But when one has mentioned Wyoming county, one has disposed of the worst. Conditions are much better in the four other counties, although Mingo county's roads are still poor and there is room for improvement in Logan county. Each, however, has under way an ambitious road improvement program. As for schools, Mingo and Logan counties are well equipped."

"Most of the school buildings in these counties are of the one-room type, but they are rapidly giving way to the modern consolidated school. There are now such schools in every county, and they are increasing as the road program is being completed and bus lines are being established to transport pupils to and from their homes."

"To get away from the stereotyped form of buildings, we have employed an architect to design modern, light and commodious structures."

McDowell county is among the best developed counties in the state. It was a pioneer in the movement for better highways and its free schools have attracted wide attention. In the county seat, Welch, school buildings are of the most modern design, while there is a hospital for miners which is classed by physicians as one of the best hospitals in the state. The McDowell county post of the American Legion recently completed a fine home, the only Legion post in West Virginia to own its own quarters.

The movement for law and order in the county was shown when two companies of the new West Virginia National Guard were accepted for federal service. During the recent labor disturbances, 1,229 men, many of them leaders in the public and industrial life of the county, volunteered for service in Logan county.

Coal Deposits Valuable.

The coal deposits of McDowell are particularly valuable, and a large number of new coal mining companies have recently commenced operation. This, according to Houston G. Young, secretary of state, "indicates complete development of the territory within the next few years."

Two new railroads have also been projected into Logan county one to connect with the Norfolk and Western railroad in Mingo county, and the other to connect with the Virginian railroad. A branch line of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad now enters the county from Huntington.

Another item which is attracting general attention is the erection, in the near future, of a hospital at Logan. The project is headed by Dr. Henry D. Hatfield, former governor.

Walter S. Hallanan, state tax commissioner, has just completed a tabulation showing the assessed valuation of all property in the state. One of its outstanding features is the increase recorded by every one of the counties in the southwest.

Boone county leads the state with an increase in property value of $8,180,110, notwithstanding that it is one of the smallest. The total valuation of Boone was fixed at $25,465,122.

"These increases reflect the remarkable strides in development and growth industrially and in every other way of the southwestern part of West Virginia," said Commissioner Hallanan.

RAILWAY AGG EDITOR FEARS FOR THE FUTURE

Says That the Strike Crisis is a Serious Matter

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Attacking both the interstate commerce commission and the United States railroad labor board as "inefficient," Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age today declared that the government's policy in dealing with the carriers was more serious than the present strike crisis.

Mr. Dunn's statements were made in an address before convention of the Elevator Manufacturers' association of the United States.

"The extent to which industry can be revived and prosperity can be restored will be limited to the ability of the railroads to handle traffic," said Mr. Dunn. "A continuance of the present policy of the other will inevitably result, when industry and commerce try to revive, in acute traffic congestion and a general demoralization similar to that which caused the outlaw rail strike in 1920."

"The strike crisis is a serious matter. In some way, however, we will get thru that. The policy of the government in its dealings with the road thru the interstate commerce commission and the labor board is much more serious and if persisted in will bring results more serious than those of the impending strike."

EMPORIUM CLOSING OUT SALE BEGINS TODAY

Lease on the Building Will Soon Expire—A Wonderful Buying Opportunity for Women of Jacksonville and Vicinity

The Emporium, ladies' apparel store, located on East State street, will inaugurate a wind-up business sale today. Preparations for this sale have been under way for several weeks past and the store was closed all day Thursday for the final preparations.

The building was sold to Andre & Andre several months ago and the Emporium lease expires in just fifty-five days. So within a comparatively short time this big stock of seasonable merchandise must be sold.

Every garment in the big stock has been re-marked at a sacrifice sale price and the people of Jacksonville and this trade area have a remarkable buying opportunity. The price tags are in plain figures and show both the original and the sale prices.

There will be no restrictions on the number of articles or garments any person may purchase, as the entire stock is on sale, and the prices have been cut to a figure that will move the goods. The proprietor of the Emporium said yesterday: "This is no ordinary clearance sale but means the end of business for the Emporium, as the lease on the big building expires in less than three months' time."

The full details of the offering appear in a double-page advertisement in this issue of the Journal. Every statement will be found correct and the reputation of the Emporium proprietor for reliability will be fully maintained. Extra sales-people have been secured and the store will open for this closing-out sale at 9 o'clock this morning.—adv.

GET AMERICAN STAMPS IN LONDON

LONDON—Several American stamp collectors have been in London lately eagerly trying to secure the pick of English collections of United States stamps. One reason for the present boom in American stamps, a well-known London stamp dealer explains, is the fact that the older issues are remarkably well engraved.

"Americans," this dealer continued, "are particularly keen on issues depicting scenes in their national history."

"The 24-cent issue of 1869 shows a picture of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It is so excellent a specimen of the engraver's art that its present quotation is $4, unused, and $2, used."

"A few specimens of this stamp are worth $1000, for a quaint reason. By inadvertence, a very small number were originally printed with the picture upside down; and the few still existing fetch the enhanced figure."

"The 90-cent stamp of the 1869 issue with no embossing, and brown gum, bearing a picture of Abraham Lincoln, is in great demand at $20."

"Quite a little romance was attached to the sales of an old stamp to an American collector the other day."

"Looking thru one of the 13 volumes of our largest collection, he suddenly caught sight of an old envelope bearing an 1847 George Washington stamp."

"That is certainly remarkable," he exclaimed. "That letter is addressed to my grandmother; and it was written by my grandfather before their marriage."

"He promptly bought it at a high price as a matter of sentiment."

OPERATORS BALK PEACE MOVES OF MINE WORKERS

Refuse to Deal With Mine
Workers in Settlement

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Peace moves of the West Virginia union miners were balked here today by the definite refusal of the mine operators to deal with the miners' program of settlement was resubmitted by the senate committee investigating the mine disorders. Counsel for the mine owners announced an unalterable stand on the question.

The program, first broached Monday by Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Miners' legal staff, called the program to the attention of the committee again today and the operators' refusal was reiterated in unmistakable terms by Z. T. Vincon, their chief counsel.

The hearing also developed another phase of the operators' contentions in the declaration of William H. Coolidge, Boston, an operator and one of their lawyers that congress could obviate many of the industrial controversies by refraining from the enactment of what he described as class legislation.

Too Many Discriminating Laws. Mr. Coolidge asserted that in his opinion congress has passed too many laws which were discriminatory, and cited appropriation measures, which he declared had nullified the anti-trust laws so far as labor and farmer organizations were concerned by specifying that no funds so appropriated could be used for the prosecution. Elaborating on the refusal of the operators to discuss the union's peace terms, Mr. Coolidge declared that the Murray plan brought forward the only issue in the case.

"There is only one issue which requires the committee's attention," he said, "shall the United Mine Workers get possession of the remaining mines and as in Great Britain be able to stop all industry and starve the people of the country; to begin then accumulation of wage increases until it will not be worth while for anybody to own the mines."

900 copies of the undelivered speech, with its offending affidavit, after the house had ordered it stricken from the record.

Only a lack of money, he said, prevented its mailing to every voting man in the United States. Instantly half a dozen representatives were on their feet trying to break in.

Representative Blanton had reiterated that the publication had been sent out "in a just cause" that no law had been violated. Dramatically, he pleaded with the house, for the sake of his wife and children, to put back into the record his own undelivered speech in which he declared there was not one word calculated to give offense. But Republicans objected.

The vote to oust him was 203 to 113 with Sumners of Texas, an old political rival, voting "present."

A substitute resolution offered by Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic leader censuring the Texan for printing "language so indecent, obscene, vulgar and vile," as to render the record unavailable, and directing the speaker to "reprimand and censure him" at the bar of the house was thrown out on a point of order to the vote on expulsion. But when the Republican lost his fight to obtain the two-thirds vote necessary for expulsion, the Democratic leader called up his resolution for immediate vote.

As the names were called there was a shout of "ayes," half the members going out as they answered. The poll showed 298 to 6 with twenty six voting "present."

As the word was passed along that Mr. Blanton would be immediately hailed before the bar of the house, members streamed back into the chamber. The sergeant-at-arms had been directed to bring he Texan in.

LEGION WILL LAY PLANS FOR FIGHT

National Convention Expected to Lay Plans to Continue Fight For Adjusted Compensation For Soldiers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—(By A. P.)—National headquarters of the American Legion has announced that it is expected the Legion will, in its third annual convention at Kansas City, beginning October 31, reaffirm its stand for adjusted compensation for veterans. Headquarters predicts that the convention will lay plans for a "fight to the finish" on that issue before congress and that it will take steps to relieve distress among 900,000 ex-service men who are reported to be unemployed.

More than 1,000 voting delegates will be present, representing 11,000 posts of the Legion. Preparations have been made to care for 100,000 out of town visitors in Kansas City during the convention.

A survey of Legion sentiment throughout the country as expressed in instructions to delegates and in actions by state and county conventions of the Legion reveals, says the announcement, the following additional issues on which it is expected the national Legion assembly will declare itself:

It is held certain at headquarters that immediate action will be taken for temporary relief of permanent relief of the jobless veteran. A national committee of the organization has been making a study of relief measures following a country wide survey.

It is affirmed by some members of the Legion that passage of the Sweet bill, creating the Veterans' bureau, has not fully overcome all the difficulties which have prevented disabled men from obtaining their rights, and this question will be considered. In each of the fourteen regional districts of the veterans' bureau a representative of the Legion has been assisting the bureau in adjusting points between posts and individuals. These representatives will be able to present to the convention reports showing just what the new bureau is or is not doing.

Further plans for obtaining passage of the federalized compensation bill are to be considered. Legion representatives say that almost every state convention since the recommitment of the measure has passed resolutions of firmest support for its policy of pushing the bill. The organization's national legislative committee will present a report on the subject with recommendations for further procedure.

The convention, it is expected, will consider the question of limitation of armaments in view of the importance of the international conference in Washington opening on Armistice day. At its first and second national conventions the Legion declared its course as a medium between jingoism and blind pacifism and its military policy that of preparedness.

Questions have arisen among the membership concerning the definition of the Legion's policy of absolute neutrality in politics, the states and posts being at variance in their interpretations of the ruling. The Wyoming department has proposed an amendment to the constitution to allow "protection of the candidacy of any person seeking public office when his election would, in the judgment of the Legion, promote the purposes for which the Legion was organized as defined in the preamble to its constitution."

The Legion is pledged to "law and order" and "neutrality in disputes between capital and labor," it is pointed out. Means of disciplining single posts or individuals which violate these rules are to be brought up in the convention.

The Legion's recommendations at its first two conventions that "the so-called gentlemen's agreement with Japan be abrogated" and that "foreign-born Japanese be forever barred from American citizenship" is expected to come up again. The Legion in California, Texas, Arizona, Washington, Colorado and Nebraska has supported the enactment of laws prohibiting land holding by the Japanese. Washington Legionnaires went on record as favoring the return of all Japanese in this country to their native land.

Whether the Legion will stand for civil service preference for world war veterans not only in appointments but in promotions is expected to be up for decision. Almost every Legion state convention has passed resolutions demanding the return of the slacker Bergdoll, and this point with a review of the publication of slacker and draft deserter lists, will come up for discussion. It is believed likely that the movement for the release of Eugene V. Debs also will be considered. Legion committees have gathered a mass of information on these subjects for the convention's guidance.

The national committee on naval affairs will present a report dealing with the size of the navy, the relative importance of the surface fleet, air force and underwater craft, disintegration of the naval reserve, etc.

The military affairs committee will offer a report chiefly on the possibilities of Legion encouragement of the national guard and organized reserve. All told, national headquarters announces a dozen national committees will present important reports to the convention and several of them will make far-reaching recommendations.

On the last day of the convention a national commander, five national vice commanders and a national chaplain will be elected. There are no announced candidates. New Orleans, Baltimore, San Francisco and Houston, Tex., are in the race for the meeting place of the 1922 convention.

PRESIDENT PAYS FINE TRIBUTE

PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN IN GEORGIA, Oct. 27.—A tribute to Theodore Roosevelt as "the greatest American of his time" was written by President Harding today on the fly-leaf of a volume autographed by the Colonel nine years ago.

The book, a copy of Roosevelt's "Winning of the West" belonged to G. H. Smith, the engineer who brought the presidential special into Atlanta today.

He sent it to the president's private car with a book mark at the fly leaf, on which was scrawled: "To G. H. Smith, with all good wishes."

"Theodore Roosevelt, 'Sept. 28, 1912.'"

It came back with this added: "Gladly seconding the good wishes of the greatest American of his time."

"Warren G. Harding, Oct. 27, 1921, the anniversary of Roosevelt's birth."

PLAN CLEANUP ON CANADIAN BORDER

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 27.—James R. Davis, federal prohibition officer for Michigan, announced today he was making plans for a drive against the illicit liquor traffic in Michigan.

"We plan a general cleanup of conditions at the Canadian border," Mr. Davis said, announcing the federal authorities would be aided in the effort by city and county authorities.

"The cleanup" will be timed, Mr. Davis said to take place while the November federal grand jury is in session. The jury will begin its sittings next Tuesday. Federal authorities are prepared to take any law violators arrested, before the jury immediately, Mr. Davis said.

Paul W. Vorhees, prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, announced late today he would cooperate with the federal authorities by starting court action against all properties in the county which court records show have been used for dispensing of liquors tomorrow since 1917.

Activity on the part of the federal authorities follows the ruling of a Windsor police magistrate some time ago that the Ontario prohibition act did not prohibit shipment of liquors into dry territory. Since that time federal officials and the police here say large quantities of liquor have been brought from Canada across the border into Michigan.

A COMMUNICATION

Editor Journal:

I see by the announcement in last evening's Courier, and in this morning's Journal, that the communication and plan sent you about two months ago regarding a rest room in the court house basement, has not been entirely vain, but has been seed which has fallen in—I trust—good ground and may bring forth much good fruit.

I hope there will not be an attempt to make it too fine—not but that the ladies are entitled to nice a place as can be prepared for them, but if made too fine, the cost will be so great that it will fall by the wayside. Better an ordinary room established, than an attempt to do great things and fall down.

I don't remember whether in my first communication I made any reference to telephone booth, weighing machine, gum vending machine, etc., but I believe it would be wise to install them, as the rakeoff would help pay the laundry bill.

As great oaks from little acorns grow, so I hope the little I did in suggesting a rest room, and its location, may be productive of good results.

ELIMINATE HYDROPLANE TYPE OF SPEED BOAT New York, Oct. 27.—Elimination of the modern hydroplane type of speed boat from the gold cup races in 1922, in order to stimulate competition in the event was agreed upon today by the American Power Boat association. A rule limiting the piston displacements of boats entered for event at 625 cubic inches, was adopted to remain in force one year.

"M. W."

It is not the custom to confer the degree of M. W. on the man who is a Master of Wiring, but it ought to be. Then you'd know what calibre of man to select for the job and what kind of wiring you'd get as the result.

Although no university has ever conferred the degree of M. W. on us and probably never will, our experience easily enables us to adopt these two letters as our token of reliability.

Whether M. W. appears after our name or not we indelibly stamp it on the wiring and on the delicate work which we conscientiously do.

HARRISON DICKSON POST HAS MASCOT

Veterans Adopt Nicholas Chresam Young Greek Lad.

Harrison Dickson post of the Veterans of the Foreign Wars met last night with a fair attendance of members present and also several of the veterans from the state hospital were present.

The address of the evening was made by Mr. Ledgerwood, who is in charge of the veterans' bureau at the state hospital. He told the post of the situations being faced by the veterans and of the compensation work. He also told of the work being carried on at the hospital.

A very interesting feature of the meeting was the adoption of a mascot. There is a very interesting story behind this performance. Fred Chresam, of the Princess Candy company, had a thirteen-year-old brother residing in Greece. He sent for the lad to bring him over here, that he might become a good American citizen, as Mr. Chresam has, and to have the opportunities offered by the wonderful educational institutions of this country.

The lad traveled as far as Ellis island and was there detained and it was finally decided by the authorities to ship him home. Mr. Chresam appealed to the Veterans post, of which he is a member, and they immediately got in touch with their New York headquarters, with the result that, within three days the boy was released and soon reached this city.

Last night he was officially adopted as the post mascot. His name is Nicholas Chresam and he is already a favorite among the members of the post.

PAY TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The 63rd anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's birthday was observed today at the Brownstone House on Twentieth Street where he was born, in the village school house at Oyster Bay where the former president used to play Santa Claus at Christmas time and at Young's Cemetery, where his grave was visited by hundreds.

Besides there was a pageant by 3,000 high school girls at Carnegie hall under the auspices of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association and a dinner for Boy Scouts, who were told that the great personality of Roosevelt typifies better than any other man in history for the principles of the Boy Scout movement.

A letter from Mrs. Warren G. Harding, expressing interest in the work of the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association to restore the former president's birthplace was read there.

"May Roosevelt House always be kept as a fitting memorial of that great man's true Americanism, and a place of pilgrimage sacred and inspiring to the people of our great country," the letter read.

OFFICIALS ARE TRYING TO LINK BIG ROBBERIES

Believe Same Band of Criminals Are Operating

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Investigators tonight were considering a theory linking New York's $1,500,000 mail robbery Monday night with similar robberies in Toledo, Los Angeles and other cities.

The possibility that the same band of criminals might be at work all over the country, was advanced after Frank Haveranck, driver of the mail truck held up here, had been shown a police circular offering a $5,000 reward for the arrest of the five men who robbed Station C in Los Angeles on September 10. Haveranck declared that he recognized a picture of one of the five as that of a member of the trio who had robbed him at the pistol point.

It was learned that the cash shipment of $27,104 included in the loot, whose value was officially placed at $1,454,129 was being made by the National Park bank of New York to the Cornish Trust company of Cornish, N. Y.

WEALTHY McLEAN COUNTY MAN DIES

John McBurnes Passes Away After Short Illness—Recently Gave $150,000 for Soldiers' Memorial.

John McBurnes, a wealthy resident of McLean county, died there recently following a brief illness. Mr. McBurnes not long since donated the sum of $150,000 for the erection of the McBurnes Soldiers and Sailors Memorial in Bloomington. It was only very recently that the final arrangements were completed with the board of supervisors of McLean county for the memorial.

Friends of Mr. McBurnes say that he knew his health was failing and for that reason he was very anxious to complete the memorial arrangements. During the campaign of Illinois Wesleyan a few months ago he offered this sum providing an equal amount be raised by Wesleyan. The institution was not able to meet the offer at that time and it was then made to the board of supervisors of McLean county. The board took the matter under advisement and did not find its way clear to meet Mr. McBurnes' conditions. Subsequently he withdrew his original requirements and agreed to furnish the $150,000 if a satisfactory site were furnished. A site was accepted and the memorial committee was appointed.

The funeral service for Mr. McBurnes was held Thursday at Holder in McLean county. A military guard, consisting of members of the G. A. R., the American Legion, the United Spanish War Veterans and Veterans of Foreign Wars attended the service.

BURIED WEEK: MINERS RESCUED

BRITANNIA BEACH, B. C., Oct. 27.—Two copper miners, entombed for a week, 2,300 feet under the ground, were rescued alive here tonight. A trickle of water, air from a tiny aperture in the shaft and their emergency rations served to sustain life. The men were entombed by a rock slide last Thursday.

NEWS NOTES FROM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Various Subjects Presented at Weekly Session of Directors

At the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce held Thursday night a committee representing the Poultry association was present. The members of the committee were Messrs. Brown, Vail and Briggs, and they requested on behalf of their association the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce for the annual exhibit to be made in November or December. A committee will be appointed to confer with the poultrymen.

When reports were called for by President Rowe, it was stated that the boulevard lighting committee has that project well under way for East State street. It has been decided to utilize a bracket form of light which can be attached to the steel poles now in place. This plan will reduce the cost of the proposed improvement to $1,500 or less. It is expected to make this a voluntary matter than paying for the lights under the public improvement act.

It was announced that the forum committee will hold a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of outlining the program of the next meeting and discussing some other matters relative to forum work.

The United Budget committee in which the Chamber of Commerce has representation is to meet at the Pacific hotel this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock for the further planning of the campaign. Secretary Welch read a letter from a member of the association, suggesting that present rates for gas service are too high and that the Chamber of Commerce might appropriately make some investigation of this question.

It was the request of the directors that a committee be appointed to take whatever action may be possible. Secretary Welch also reported with reference to some correspondence with the International Shoe Co. A representative of this company is expected in the city in the course of a short time to consider the possibilities of locating a branch here. The statement was made that the committee in charge of the Halloween festival has plans well under way. Business men are joining heartily in doing the decorating work and the services of a band under the direction of Mr. Johnson have been secured without cost.

A committee will be named to represent the Chamber of Commerce in conference with other organizations concerning the observance of Armistice day. Several other matters of interest were discussed before the board adjourned.

BOY SCOUTS HEAR ROOSEVELT EULOGIZED

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The late Theodore Roosevelt was eulogized tonight by Postmaster General Hays as the embodiment of those virtues for which every Boy Scout strives, in an address at a memorial meeting of the Boy Scouts of America. "Character and service," he said, would always link the name of the late president with the name of the Boy Scouts.

"Roosevelt's key quality was courage," Mr. Hays declared. "Roosevelt without courage would not have been Roosevelt. The phenomenal memory, the brilliant mind, the high principles would have availed nothing."

He urged his youthful audience to let "Roosevelt be your companion, teaching you by example how, out of an average boy, a world's hero may be made."

DEPUTY SHERIFF IS ARRESTED AS SUSPECT

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Oct. 27.—Jerome Lockhart, deputy sheriff detailed to guard the $95,000 Peabody mine payroll at Kincaid August 13, when the payroll was stolen by four bandits, was arrested today following his indictment for complicity in the hold-up. He was released tonight under bond of $20,000.

Arrested with Lockhart were his cousin, Jesse Lockhart, and a man named Greenwald. Jerome Lockhart was a deputy in the office of heriff Dunbar of Christian county who made the arrests. After the holdup in a blow from the butt end of a revolver in the hands of one of the bandits, Lockhart joined a posse in pursuit of the bandits.

BLOODHOUNDS USED IN BELKNAP MURDER

Lead, S. D., Oct. 27.—Bloodhounds, put on the trail tonight of the slayer of Father A. B. Belknop, whose body was found in Poor Man's Gulch road yesterday morning, led a posse tonight thru a blinding snow storm directly to the home occupied by Tony Bartolino, an Italian, and a man named Simon Kootzman. Bartolino is the man reported to have discovered the body of the priest.

Neither Bartolino nor Kootzman were arrested but County Attorney James Fowler, who questioned the men, announced that "important developments" had resulted.

VETERINARIANS MAKE COMPLAINT
A warrant for the arrest of Robert C. Henley was sworn out yesterday morning at the office of State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson by Dr. A. C. Bolle, acting for the Tri-County Veterinary association of Illinois. The charge is that Mr. Henley has been misrepresenting himself to farmers and stock men of the community posing as a graduate veterinarian. The case will probably come up in the November term of court.

You remember the story of the Pitcher—

It made a good many trips to the well and it came back in good order.

"I can take care of myself," it said—"they don't need to talk about risks to me."

But it went once too often.

After that it was only part of a pitcher, and they didn't need to talk to it about risks—it knew.

A lot of people won't believe coffee can harm them until it does harm them.

"Nonsense!" they say, "it never disturbs me."

When it does disturb them, then they know.

Often the disturbance which they then recognize is the result of irritations to nerves and digestion which have been going on for a long time.

If you have to lie awake at night and count the clock ticks, after an evening cup of coffee, then you know that it's better to be safe than sorry.

The risk of coffee's harm is gone when the meal-time drink is Postum.

Here's a delightful and satisfying table beverage, with charm for the taste and without harm for nerves or digestion. You know you're on the right road with Postum; there's never the possibility that you'll go once too often.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

The local police court was busy yesterday. Harley Adams was trying a case of Warren Talkington, complainant and Fred Bateman defendant. It was a public nuisance case. Bateman was alleged to have placed garbage cans in the street, thus causing a nuisance. The evidence wasn't sufficient and the case was dismissed.

The House poultry house was burglarized Monday night and seven cases of eggs were taken. The police in the nearby towns were notified with the result that two of the robbers were captured and the third one getting away. John and Charles Hedgepeth, brothers, of White Hall were arrested by the officers at Hillview. William, alias Bill Austin, also made his getaway. HUNTER BATTLES
WITH ELEPHANT

LONDON.—(By the A. P.)—A good elephant yarn is told by J. Morewood Dowsett, a well-known big game hunter, who has just returned from a hunting trip in South Africa.

He was hunting elephants in Uganda when information was brought to him of the whereabouts of a large herd. With a native chief and a house boy, he started to find them.

The party came upon the herd in the forest. Mr. Dowsett got several photographs within twenty yards of the beasts when the chief warned him that they had been "scented" and that the animals were coming for them. Snatching up his rifle, Mr. Dowsett shot and killed the leader, a big bull.

While some surrounded the dead leader, many of the beasts charged and running the wrong way, Mr. Dowsett was cut off from the party. Reloading his gun, the hunter dashed off for safety and ran into a big bull elephant which crashed through the bush six yards in front of him.

Trunk aloft, ears extended and trumpeting wildly, the beast rushed at Mr. Dowsett and swept him to the ground with his trunk and turned rapidly in its own length ready to trample him.

The hunter took a flying dive under the monster's belly, realizing he would then be on the right side of the wind but the beast turned rapidly round and again tried to trample him. Instead the animal rolled him over and over with his legs and the hunter saw above him the two great tusks as the beast tried to maneuver his body into position and pick him up. Mr. Dowsett managed to roll behind the animal and get to his feet and make a dash for cover.

To the hunter's relief and surprise the furious beast set off in the opposite direction and disappeared.

Employees of the City Are Grading Proposed Driveway—Will Extend Along East Side of Lake

Work on the Victory Drive on the east side of Lake Mauniaterra has been begun by the city officials. Employees of the city street department have started grading work under the supervision of Superintendent White and O. Spaulding. Pat Dooley, of this city, who is considered one of the best grading operators in the state, has charge of the grading machine and the work is moving along rapidly.

The drive will proceed south on the east side of the lake and will enter the Oak Lawn sanitarium grounds. It is to be very beautiful and picturesque and will be planted with trees on each border in memory of Morgan county service men. Members of the park board have staked a short piece of the route and will stake off more as it becomes necessary. The grading work is all that will be accomplished this year but in the future the drive will probably be oiled and be something of which the city may well be proud.

HER TROUBLES OF TEN YEARS ENDED

Illinois Woman Says Tanlac Completely Restored Her Health—Gains Thirty Pounds.

"Tanlac has not only completely relieved me after ten years of suffering but I have actually gained thirty pounds in weight and am as well and strong as I ever was in my life," said Mrs. Richard Rudd, of Kingston, Ill.

"After every meal I had a feeling of nausea and would bloat up with gas until I could hardly stand it. I lost all desire for food and fell off in weight until I only weighed a hundred pounds. I had spells of dizziness and headaches that kept me in bed for days at a time. Pains across the small of my back were so bad that when I tried to stoop over it made me cry out. I would toss in bed for hours at night unable to sleep, and in the mornings always felt tired and worn out.

"Tanlac began to help me right from the start. I began to sleep much better, and my appetite picked up wonderfully. I have not taken eight bottles of the medicine and have gained thirty pounds in weight, and everything agrees with me perfectly. I am never bothered with nausea, bloating, or gas and headaches and dizziness are things of the past. The pains have disappeared from my back also and I am a perfectly well woman."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by J. F. Shreve, Druggist, and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Are You Interested in Economical Operation?

There are two ways to operate a motor car—economically or extravagantly.

THE EXTRAVAGANT WAY consists of running until all parts are worn and some broken, then trade in on a new car.

THE ECONOMICAL WAY consists of having a competent mechanic adjust and oil at 500 miles, at 1500 miles, and each 1000 miles thereafter up to 20,000 miles, then rebuild.

On a basis of 50,000 miles in 5 years, your maintenance will be as follows: 1st case, 5 new $2000 cars at a total cost of $5,500.00. 2nd case, 50 jobs averaging $25.00, at $1250.00; 2 jobs at $250.00, or $500.00. Total $1,750.00.

Saving of case No. 2 over case No. 1 is $5,500.00 less $1,750.00 or $3,750.00 saving.

If there is any doubt in your mind these figures are not a fair approximation of the facts, see us and we will go into more positive proof to your entire satisfaction.

MANY FAMOUS MEN AT LEGION MEETING

Marshal Foch, Commander in Chief of the Allied Armies Will Be a Guest—Is First Visit to United States.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Oct. 27.—A notable gathering of famous men, soldiers and statesmen, will mark the third national convention of the American Legion here October 31 to November 2.

Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the allied armies during the last months of the world war, is the principal guest of honor, but there are to be a number of others of great distinction. Marshal Foch, legion officials point out, commanded the greatest army, both in numbers and fighting ability, of which there is any authentic record in history. Beside his hosts, the armies of Alexander the Great, Genghis Khan, Attila the Hun and even the horde of Saracens that swarmed into Europe in the middle ages, were pigmy forces. This will be Marshal Foch's first visit to the United States, and he has announced his greeting to the American people would be made at the legion convention.

Representing Great Britain will come Admiral Sir David Beatty, of the battle of Jutland fame. Former "gobs" of the American navy, who served with the British navy have a warm admiration for Admiral Beatty, and the part he played in the one major naval engagement in which the German fleet engaged.

From Belgium Lieutenant General Baron Jacques brings an official message and General Armando Diaz comes in a similar capacity from Italy.

American leaders will be represented by General Pershing, Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz, Maj. Gen. Enock H. Crowder and thirty veterans of the world war, who have been awarded the congressional medal of honor, the highest decoration for courage which any American soldier can win. Governors of twenty states have also promised to be present. Following a short band concert the opening morning of the convention, Mme. Schumann-Heink will sing "The Star-Spangled Banner." The singer declined an offer of "expenses" at the time she accepted the legion's invitation to be present, saying she would gladly come to sing again for "her boys."

Colorful Parade.
The parade, in which 40,000 former service men are expected to march, will be colorful. Men in cowboy costume, Indian veterans in tribal regalia, and Indians in costumes decked with corn blades are among those who will participate. Airplanes and tanks will have a part in the parade. Allied flags will give color to the streets through which the marchers wind.

A western rodeo is to be staged by members of a local legion post, all of whom are stockyard workers. Five women "broncho busters" will also do their part. Strickland, Jim Harrison of Oklahoma, Lloyd Saunders, a Kansan, and Mike Hastings are among those who will participate in the rodeo.

A number of American fliers, who made distinguished records, among them "Eddie" Rickenbacker, are entered for the aviation meet which will be one of the legion's entertainments. There will be races at the aviation meet and cash prizes amounting to $10,000 have been provided.

The problem of feeding the visitors, legion officials believe, will be satisfactorily handled. Of course, they admit, soldiers are always hungry, but street vendors of "hot dogs," and Salvation Army lassies offering "coffee, doughnuts and salvation free" are expected to alleviate that condition.

Restaurants will be supervised by a convention committee to prevent possible over-charging. A "military police" company is planned to aid the local police in maintaining order and handling the crowds, and W. A. Raupp, adjutant general of Missouri, will set up a "military court" to deal with petty difficulties of any sort which may arise among the veterans. The convention committee of the legion has been advised that local police will not interfere in cases of this sort.

The present strength of the United States Marine Corps is 21,134 men. The reserve force numbers 4116.

Infantry regiments of the United States army have been ordered reduced in strength from 1490 to 1312 men.

The authorized strength of the National Guard of the United States has been increased from 205,153 to 225,000 men.

In the United States army, navy and Marine Corps, there are 587 commissioned officers who were born under foreign flags.

An official list of the heroes who fell in the world war is being published by the British government. It comprises 80 volumes.

Sergeant Michael O'Leary, of Ontario, Canada, has the distinction of being the first British soldier in the world war to win the Victoria Cross.

The standard rifle of the United States army is the Springfield .30 calibre rifle. The Colt .45 calibre automatic pistol is the standard sidearm.

The cavalry branch of the French army on a permanent peace basis, will be made up of 45 regiments, comprising 48,000 mounted effectives.

The light scout cruiser Richmond, with 33 knots speed, recently launched at Philadelphia, Pa., is designed to be one of the swiftest ships in any navy.

The American soldier in Germany receives 35 American dollars a month. This amounts to as high as 3500 marks a month which is the salary of a highly-paid bank president.

The majority of the American unknown dead were killed in the Argonne drive and buried in the Romagne Cemetery. A few of the unidentified lie at Bony and in the Belleau Wood, France.

The United States in the last three months, paid out $88,004,866 in insurance compensation and training allowance to veterans of the world war. This amount is the largest sum thus far paid out by the government in compensation.

For his service during the World War, Admiral Sir H. Eyth Thomas, of the British navy was given permission by King George to wear an American Distinguished Service Cross, conferred by the President of the United States.

The regular army of the United States is approximately 145,000. This is 500 below the strength authorized by Congress and has reduced the army to a size which is frankly regarded as dangerous even for the ordinary police duties of the country.

Two hundred and twenty former soldiers and sailors will be the first occupants of the big hospital building on the top of South Mountain in Pennsylvania. Many of the soldier patients are men whose lungs have become affected by gas poisoning.

As a result of the first test of a new aerial bomb, weighing 4300 pounds, dropped from an altitude of 4100 feet by an army airplane at Aberdeen, Md., a crater was blown into the earth 100 feet in diameter and 25 feet deep. The bomb was the heaviest and probably the most destructive ever constructed.

The general staff of the United States army have prepared plans for creation of the original reserve of the army on a basis that will permit quick mobilization of more than 4,000,000 men. Twenty-seven infantry divisions of the reserve are provided for, numbering from the 76th to the 104th, and preserving in number and geographical location the 16 wartime national army divisions.

FOR COMMISSIONER

As the Democratic candidate for county commissioner, I will appreciate your vote at the polls. If elected I will seek to do my duty at all times.

Robert S. Hamilton.

NURSING ACTIVITIES

The nursing activities of the Red Cross are not very well known by the citizens in general. The Red Cross public health nurse has activities which include the examination of all the students in the schools of the rural district of the county. This list of schools numbers 106 and has a total of nearly two thousand children. Miss Reicke, the Red Cross nurse, is kept so busy that she finds it almost impossible to visit any of the districts more than once or twice a year. Her work does not include the city of Jacksonville at all. Miss Ryan is the city school nurse but there is no public nurse that visits the families of the city and it is the belief of many that there should be such an official.

There is doubtless a large number that is interested in the national activities of the Red Cross Nursing Service. The national headquarters have compiled the following facts to inform the public of the remarkable work of this division.

The American Red Cross Nursing Service, at the request of the government, provides the reserve out of which nurses are furnished for the Army and Navy Nursing Corps and U. S. Public Health Service.

19,877 nurses were furnished by Red Cross during the World War.

37,787 nurses are now registered and subject to call.

4,794 nurses were in active service July 1, 1921.

1,163 nurses have been furnished to the U. S. Public Health Service.

1,936 chapters last year employed 1,335 public health nurses.

1,726 instructors have been enrolled 258,719 students in home hygiene and care of the sick; during the last year 85,570 persons completed the course and received certificates.

During the year 500,445 children have been inspected for physical defects, and means of their correction recommended.

Red Cross Nutrition Service is giving instruction to 23,065 children and 163 classes in food selection have been inaugurated.

In 260 health centers 90,252 attended public health clinics. 4,015 health lectures were given and 780 health exhibits held in these centers.

Your membership dollar will help to strengthen America.

The annual Red Cross roll call will be held in the county from Nov. 11 to 24 and in the city of Jacksonville will be held in connection with the United Budget campaign, November 13 to 22.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

As the candidate for the Republican party for county commissioner selected at the recent convention, I will appreciate support given me at the polls, and if selected will fill the office to the best of my ability.

FAMOUS SCHOONER GRANTED REPRIEVE

Seattle, Wash. Oct. 27.—(By A. P.)—The old South Sea trading schooner Equator, famous as the vessel on which Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have received the inspiration for his story of "The Wreckers," has been granted a reprieve from Davy Jones' bonfire of out-worn ships.

The Equator, for many years a tug, was abandoned when it was decided to open a rail line. The frames were found to be of Port Oxford cedar and as good, according to marine men here, as when she slid down the ways at Benicia, California, in 1888. As a result the vessel was recently rebuilt, her steam engine replaced with a Diesel-power engine and she will shortly resume her career as a tug.

The story goes that Stevenson, making a voyage in the Equator, then a schooner among the "islands of romance," was sitting in the cabin one night with a gathering of traders, pearl fishers and others and heard an old South Sea yarn that gave him the idea for "The Wreckers." Later he recorded the fact in his diary.

Years later the Equator was equipped with steam engines and in course of time made her appearance on Puget Sound.

Her owners say she is good for many more years of service.

IMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin would begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever afflicted with "dark brown taste," bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are for patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

EVERYBODY WORKED
LUT FATHER

"Father's stomach trouble seemed to be getting worse all the time and finally he had to quit work altogether. Two brothers and myself gave up school and went to work to support the family. Father had lost sixty pounds in weight and was yellow as saffron and no medicine helped him. Telling a friend about it six months ago, she advised taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I got a bottle and it helped father at once. He was able to go back to work a month later, has regained his weight and strength and eats like a wood chopper." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT FINE AT LYNNVILLE

People Joined Hearts on Program for Securing Good Walks—Many Workers Present—Excellent Dinner Served.

A fine example of what people can do when they get together was seen at Lynnville yesterday morning. A real community spirit was evident as the people of the town and the surrounding territory co-operated in the work which will mean better walks.

Several weeks ago the people of the community planned for the work which was done yesterday, but a heavy rain fell and made a change in the program necessary. Nevertheless on that date a fine dinner was served and the occasion made its contribution to the community spirit.

At first it didn't seem to be a success. Try, try, again.

Adn they did try Oct. 27th and that time it was a grand success. First the good ladies did their part and in the community rooms of the Christian church they assembled. Among them were Mrs. Hulah Moore, Miss Kate Hill, Miss Emma Coultas, Mrs. Trusler Howe, Mrs. Joseph Duckwall and daughter, Miss Ozella; Mrs. George Blackburn, Mrs. Simon Blackburn, Mrs. W. E. Watson and daughter, Miss Lorena; Mrs. Carl May, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Shirley McKean, Mrs. Albert Potter. The writer tried hard to get all the names of the good ladies who had united in preparing the community dinner and such a dinner as it was primarily for the men who did the work but when the reporter showed up at once the worthy ladies said, "Bring your daughter right down and have dinner with us," and could any one who has ever eaten the fine cooking of the ladies of that vicinity refused? The writer surely couldn't but sat down with the outspiced gentlemen who had come with teams to do the hauling. There was but one sad feature connected with the affair. After the visitors had eaten all he could of the delicious substantial there were several kinds of pie and to leave them because he was full, it was sad enough, but it had to be done.

The enterprising people decided that the village should have more walks and to that end volunteers were called for to appear with teams, drive to Bushy Fork, four miles south, and haul up sand and gravel for the purpose. We all know the shortest route to a man's esteem and the good ladies knew it too, so before starting out the men were treated to that dinner aforesaid, and the loads hauled by the horses and mules were decidedly augmented.

W. D. Duckwall, chairman of the village board, was chairman and his willing assistants were Fred Duckwall, William Gibbs, Thomas Duckwall, George Blackburn, Andrew Kitchen, Jesse Wells, Walter Casson, Bryan Watfield, H. V. McNeely, Charles Williams and Lon Pezneyhough, Lee Ward, Homer Summers, Wiley Todd, Oliver C. Coultas, Irvin Gouvala and Albert Potter. In this list also every effort was made to get all the names but if any were accidentally omitted they will gladly be added. It is also just to say that Rev. L. H. Cronkrite, pastor of the Christian church was active in the work and gave valuable assistance as did many others who didn't furnish teams but did other work about the place, shoveling sand and gravel and various other duties.

The whole occasion was very gratifying. It brought together enterprising men and women, inculcated a spirit of fraternity and cooperation and promised a feeling of good fellowship which is always desirable. We hope it is the forerunner of several similar occasions.
